Not illustrated. 1909 Excerpt: .it now most desirable to give especial attention to the important subject of comprehensive city planning. Communities everywhere are learning that hit-or-miss development is neither economical nor satisfactory, and many cities are therefore providing themselves with logical plans for the best development It is the particular province of the American Civic Association to afford practical help, not only in the way of suggestions as to arousing methods, but in bringing together the city planner and the city to be planned. During 1910 we aim to forward a movement for civic education, to make national a campaign against the life-destroying housefly, and to urge upon communities a safe and sane Fourth of July. Edited by Edward T. Hartman Secretary Massachusetts Civic League Social Centers In most of our towns and villages the developments of commercial life have carried us beyond the village store and all that it...
