Palgrave Macmillan, UK, 2009. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. Dust Jacket Condition: New. First Edition. Available Now. Book Description: 'No Fear' highlights two challenges we face in the workplace, and in our daily lives. The first is how to free ourselves from fear and develop our skills and power, often tied up by our own insecurities. The second is how to avoid managing through fear and to try other possibilities, based on our talent, change and innovation. Fear has been the traditional way of managing, however, past successes don't guarantee future successes. The future is owned by those who are able to create it for themselves, as long as they dare to break the rules. This extraordinary book is a journey through fear, and how to dispel it, that will help the reader recognize the emotion in the workplace as well as in their own lives. : Review: Praise for Spanish Edition : 'Certainly Pilar Jeric possesses an enormous capacity for being the first to detect emerging issues which will later become paradigms of our daily existence. Now with No Fear she goes a step further: not only does she explore a key - though elusive - concept in people management, but also verbalizes and systematizes aspects of the human character that we would all like to know how to manage. An outstanding book bound to give rise to a whole new current in business management literature.' - Julio Moreno, Korn Ferry partner: 'Pilar Jeric's new book is an excellent guide to understanding how fear impacts on productivity in organizations and inhibits our performance as professionals. An original, entertaining and provocative book that is above all a sincere invitation to free ourselves from our fears and create No Fear organizations based on trust, talent and innovation.' - Jos Cabrera, Honorary President...
